

Andy's Photoshop Tip #26 - Fading Two Images Together

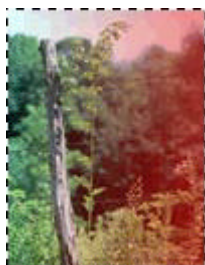

1

Open up your first image. Select all (CTRL+A) and copy (CTRL+C).

2

Open up your second image.

3

Click on the Quick Mask button and paint a gradient on your picture from white to black. Because you are in Quick Mask mode, the white color will be transparent and the black will show up red. The redder the image, the less the other image will show through.

4

Click back to Normal Mode and you will see a selection box around one-half of your image. Now just paste your first image in to your current selection (EDIT...PASTE INTO). By doing this, your first image fades into your second image.
